RUUSEVELI AND TAFT CONFER

Met in New Haven, Conn., to Talk Politics.

T. R. SOUGHT CONFERENCE

While the President Will Not Mix In New York Situation, His Sympathies Are With Roosevelt in Fight Against

Colonel Roosevelt came to President Tait for aid in his fight against the bosses in New York state. The conference took place in New Haven, Conn. where President Taft had gone to at tend a meeting of the Yale corpora-

The colonel made no specific request for action on President Taft's part, but it was apparent that he and his friends had sought the conference for the moral effect that it would have in the New York state contest.

The president made it clear to Mr. Roosevelt that he is in sympathy with his fight against the bosses, but he also told the colonel plainly that he wouldn't mix up further in the New York state situation. He told Mr. Roosevelt that he would stand square ly on the letter which he had written to Lloyd C. Griscom after the meeting of the Republican state committee in New York city, Later President Taff told the newspaper correspondents that in his opinion his sympathy for the Roosevelt forces was clearly shown in this letter.

Will Endorse Taft,

The relteration by President Tafi of the sentiments expressed in the Griscom letter was not, however, the only important development that fol lowed the New Haven conference. It is certain now that the Taft administration will be endorsed in its entirety by the Saratoga convention, even if the Roosevelt forces are in control. On the other hand, however, there will be no endorsement of President Taft by the New York state Republican convention for renomination in 1912. The omission of such an endorsement will he in conformity to the president's own desire. This will leave the field open so far as New York state is comcerned between him and Mr. Roose veit for the Republican nomination for 1812 if Mr. Roosevelt has any thought of trying for it. The action of the Saratoga conven-tion either toward the endorsement of the Taft administration or of Mr. Tatt's candidacy for renomination wasn't mentioned in the conference between Mr. Taft and Colonel Roose velt, but Otto T. Bannard, who is a Taft man, but is flirting with the Roosevelt-Griscom forces, is authority for the statement that the Taft ad ministration will be endorsed en-tota
